1.	EXECUTIVE SUMMARY
1.1	This report informs members of the Integration Joint Board (IJB) of the work undertaken within the North Ayrshire Health and Social Care Partnership (NAHSCP) nationally, locally and Ayrshire wide.
2.	CURRENT POSITION
	Ayrshire Wide Developments
	What Matters to You? Day 2019
	On 6th June 2019 , our staff agreed to ask the people they support or work with, 'What Matters to You?' The day focussed on staff having good conversations with the people who access our services. Conversations took place with people in our localities, through our Locality Planning Forums to inform our local priorities, as part of our strategic planning process.
	'What Matters to You' champions were identified across all our services to help co-ordinate events within the services and make sure feedback forms were returned.
	What's important about 'What Matters to You' is that these conversations help us to learn more about the people we support, and we know even small changes make a big difference!
	If you'd like to find out more about our What Matters to You approach (2017 and 2018), click here http://www.nahscp.org/get-involved-say/ . What Matters to You?

	2019 is happening across Ayrshire, in all three health and social care partnerships and acute hospitals, and across the UK.

	NHS Scotland Chief Executive Visit
	On Monday 13 th May 2019, Malcolm Wright, Director-General Health and Social Care & Chief Executive of NHS Scotland visited Ayrshire and Arran. Whilst here, he was able to visit our mental health inpatient facilities at Woodland View and our new development at Warrix Avenue on the Trindlemoss site. He was greatly impressed with the facilities, the new models of care and the passion of staff.
	Thinking Different, Doing Better
	The Project Team are working hard to progress the staff “experience” for Thinking Different, Doing Better. Things are moving fast in the project office with lots of ‘old’ established links and many new links are being made. Organisations across North Ayrshire are working with us to create a future vision for a resilient, healthier North Ayrshire, where individual and community assets, in partnership with health and social care services, enable people to live as well as possible in their community. We’ve been overwhelmed by the offer of ‘free’ labour and materials/goods from across private, public and voluntary sectors. Each partnership team will be represented in this interactive experience with a team object/artefact. Thinking Different, Doing Better is all about people and about making people’s experience of health and social care services in North Ayrshire even better.
	A New Beginning for the Alcohol and Drug Partnership
	Former Chief Superintendent Paul Main, has taken up the role of independent Chair of the North Ayrshire Alcohol and Drug Partnership. His appointment comes following Chief Officers agreeing to seek an independent Chair and for the Alcohol and Drug Partnership agenda to be overseen by the Chief Officer’s Group. This places the ADP in North Ayrshire at the heart of the public protection agenda, with many lives being cut short far too early. Paul’s knowledge, skills and values will be of major benefit to the Alcohol and Drug Partnership and will help us drive forward the great work already in place around prevention, treatment and recovery.
